Fair Almost Gets One Day Without Rain

Busy Schedule Marks Today's Program at County Exposition

The Pickaway County Fair almost but not quite enjoyed a full day without rain yesterday.

A multitude of activity progressed in fine fashion most of the afternoon. Then came that frequent nemesis of rain at about 8 p. m., and what had been the largest crowd to date quickly diminished.

The latest downpour marked the third day in a row the Fair has been plagued with rain. This unfortunate circumstance has taken its toll at the gate, but an enthusiastic show spirit still remains.

A large crowd was on hand yesterday afternoon to witness gala sights on the Midway and watch interesting and exciting judging in the livestock barns and other Fair buildings.

THE day's three harness races were finished in commendable style and a large Pet Parade followed on the race track in front of the Grandstand.

Rain halted the Hurricane Hell Drivers Thrill show for about 45 minutes, but the game drivers later came on to wow spectators in spite of a muddy track.

The Fair picture may take a brighter turn today. Although it's hard to believe, no showers were listed on the early weather forecast.

With this more pleasant outlook in view, the county exhibition enters its fourth day. A busy program is on the agenda.

Judging of 4-H beef and open class dairy cattle started early today. Judging of 4-H home economics projects also got an early start. Flower show judging was slated to start at 12:30 p. m.

The final day of harness racing was scheduled to get under way at 2 p. m. Three races, two heats each, were carded.

Tonight's special attraction will be the championship auto races, slated to start at 7:30 in front of the Grandstand. Delayed horse shoe pitching will be conducted from 6 p. m. on.

Midway Memos

Mrs. Lyman Penn was intensely interested in the art exhibit. That stands to reason. She's taking courses in oils and ceramics at Capitol University this summer. She's learning to use a potter's wheel now.

George D. McDowell, Pickaway County School superintendent, was visiting the horticultural building and had this to say about the junior flower show: "The youngsters are to be congratulated for their fine flower display. They deserve credit both for growing and showing their flowers."

McDowell pointed to an onion in one of the arrangements in the "Treasured Tray" class and admitted that the exhibitor could beat him growing onions.

Next the superintendent passed on to the vegetable display where he spied an enormous cabbage. We overheard his banter with another fair visitor. He asked her how she would like the cabbage for supper. She said it would take a week to eat the cabbage and break her up buying cole slaw dressing for it.

Mrs. Dorsey Bumgarner, flower show judge, said there was a good deal of evidence that the young exhibitors at the junior flower show had not read their schedules.

This always happens: Mrs. Shelby Teegardin showed up at Tuesday's show with magnificent hybrid tea roses. The schedule called for floribundas.

Mrs. Harry Wright was interested in who exhibited at the flower show. Mrs. Wright says you want to see what is exhibited and you also want to know who the exhibitor is.

In the department in which Mrs. Wright aided (homemaking division), the names were on each registration card. If visitors want to know who made a certain exhibit they have only to reach over and read the name on the exhibit tag. She would like to go on record as saying it would make a more interesting flower show if names were on each registration card.

One cute sight Wednesday was little Gene List (not a day over two) leading a pet coon around by a chain. His father, Bob List of Pherson, was keeping an eye on him. Eventually they were joining the pet parade, but with the coon pulling one way and Gene the other it looked doubtful if they'd ever make it.

JENNIE Thompson told us she had seen a pet red fox ready for the parade. We expressed some fear at the idea of a red fox for a pet. But Jennie said if you reared them from babyhood they made safe pets while young. She had a schoolmate who had a pet fox.

It was rather hot at the Fair Wednesday afternoon. We made matters hotter by having a cup of coffee and a fresh fried doughnut. Very reviving and delicious. Actually we did not feel one bit hotter for having stopped.

Mrs. Carl Smith was manning the doughnut machine at the Log-an Elm Booster booth. Helping her was her daughter, Anne, evidently a dyed-in-the-wool booster. Anne is getting ready for the university in the fall, but that did not keep her from helping with the doughnuts.

Some Circleville youngsters seem to be under the impression that only 4-H club members may exhibit flowers at the County Fair. This is not true. The show is open to all junior gardeners.

The National Council of State Garden Clubs is requesting that each flower show have special classes for the high school aged youngsters.

This seems fair enough since have more know-how and craftsmanship than younger children. Often very young children are interested in entering a flower show.

SPEAKING of craftsmanship, Boyd Kuhlwein's leather display in the Coliseum proves that we have local craftsmen. Kuhlwein, of course, is an Ashville man.

Quite close to the horticultural building is a booth operated by some Yellowbud folks. The booth is nestled up close to the coliseum. Here floral dyes are being sold and this couple has experimented widely with dyes. Of the thousands of (Continued on Page 2)

Western Force in Europe Said Match Now for Reds

WASHINGTON (AP)—Current appraisals in informed Washington circles are that Western forces would be a virtual match for Communist troops in a conventional war.

The feeling here now is that Western allies have far more powerful ground forces in Europe than popularly believed.

Behind this thinking: 1. American and North Atlantic Treaty Organization divisions are larger and have more firepower than the Communists, and actually outnumber them on the critical central European front.

2. The Allies are believed to have as much tactical air power on the central front as the Communists.

3. The Allied nuclear power exceeds that of the Soviets even though they may be superior in their ability to deliver it via long-range missiles.

This picture is beginning to emerge here in information obtained from Defense Department officials and sources in congress while the Berlin situation remains critical.

The U.S. forces in Europe may be bolstered by a substantial portion of the 28,000 men in 71 Air National Guard and reserve units alerted for possible active duty Tuesday. They could help build up conventional air power and air transport capabilities in the NATO region.

In an appearance before the House Armed Services Committee last Friday, Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara took a view much in step with current appraisals here of the military situation.

He said that "overestimates" of Red power fail to take into account "the problems that the Soviet Union is likely to have with the satellites in the event of an armed conflict."

McNamara said he believed that Soviet Premier Khrushchev has "grave doubts" about whether the East Germans would fight for him in event of a conflict over Berlin.

And, the Pentagon boss said in the testimony made public Monday: "There is no reason for us to assume that the Soviet Union can run over NATO. It can't."

McNamara also criticized the press for what he said was failure to distinguish between different kinds of divisions and thus building a public conception of the Soviets "as 12½ feet tall."

There are 22 NATO divisions, much fewer than the Soviet Union is believed to have in Europe. But, the feeling here is that differences in size and firepower more than balance out the numerical difference.

City School Enrollment To Be Larger

An enumeration completed here of children residing in the Circleville School District shows a large increase over last year.

Youths enumerated, ages 5 to 18, totaled 3,309. Of this total, an anticipated 2,952 pupils are expected to enroll in Circleville Public Schools September 1.

These figures were announced today by George A. Hartman, superintendent of city schools.

Hartman said at the close of school in May, 2,755 pupils were enrolled. He said this net increase of 197 students would require more than six additional teachers.

HOWEVER, Hartman pointed out that the student increase will be mostly absorbed by utilizing larger class sections. He said as an economy measure only two additional teachers have been obtained.

Walter Denman conducted the school district enumeration for the City Board of Education.

School Building Grant Vote Is Solon's Goal

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey, D-Minn., served notice today that Congress will have to vote on school construction grants if it wants to continue aid to federally impacted areas.

Humphrey, assistant Senate leader, said notice had been given to House Democratic leaders that the Senate isn't going to accept a simple extension of aid for schools in districts crowded because of federal installations.

The Senate already has passed a $2.5 billion federal aid to education bill, carrying grants for classroom construction and teachers salaries. Also included in the measure was authorization for continuance of impacted area aid.

This measure, along with several other Kennedy administration proposals, has been slated in the House Rules Committee. Because 315 House members are from districts which get impacted area aid, there have been suggestions that a simple extension of this authority be passed.

About $300 million a year has been spent on this program, authority for which expired last June 30.

Charles A. Halleck of Indiana, the House Republican leader, told a news conference Wednesday action on an extension bill could be taken quickly, "if the Democratic leadership would just get behind it."

Poor Planning Cited In A-Plant Layouts

WAVERLY, Ohio (AP)—A union official has blamed an announced reduction in the work force at the Atomic Energy Commission's plant in Pike County on poor programming by past federal administrations.

J. F. Wettstein, president of Local 10-689, Oil, Chemical and Atomic Workers Union, said the layoff of 88 employees reflects "failure of past administrations to properly program" for peacetime use of atomic energy. He said the present administration has taken no action to correct the situation.

Those affected have been given from 33 to 61 days' notice of the layoff.

17 Penny Box Cars Derail near Lancaster

LANCASTER, Ohio (AP)—Workmen labored today to repair damage where 17 box cars were derailed on a siding leading to the Diamond Power Specialty Corp. just east of here Wednesday.

The cars, part of a 30-car Pennsylvania Railroad freight train, tumbled 300 feet of the single-track siding. It has not been determined what caused the accident. No one was injured.

The train was on a run between Zanesville and Circleville.

Ohio Air Guard Support Alert

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—All support units of the Ohio Air National Guard's 121st Tactical Fighter Wing—even though not specifically named in messages from Washington—are understood to be with jet pilots from the squadrons alerted for active duty.

This means administrative clerks, truck drivers, cooks, military policemen and other support personnel would go on active duty at Mansfield, Springfield and Columbus, the adjutant general's department said.

Brig. Gen. E. O. Clark, assistant adjutant general for air, said a telegram from the National Guard Bureau in Washington directed Ohio units to:

Freeze all airmen and officers in their positions; that is, none could get out of the Air Guard now without extremely compelling reasons.

Hire additional full-time air technicians (those officers and airmen who maintain records and other operations in the time between training periods for those who hold civilian jobs).

Discontinue recruiting men who have no prior military service, and would have to go through basic training before being assigned a job in the unit.

Recruit former servicemen to fill vacancies.

Hold four additional training sessions in the near future.

Log more hours of flying time in this July-September quarter.

Testimony to congressional groups by top defense officials indicates a substantial portion of the 64 Air National Guard units alerted for possible active duty may be sent to Europe.

Gunmen Quit In Effort To Fly to Cuba

Luxury Jetliner Crew, Passengers Terrorized For Hours in El Paso

EL PASO, Tex. (AP)—A bungling, blond-haired youth and a man he called "Pop hijacked a $5 million jet airplane today, terrorized passengers and crew and announced they were taking the plane to Cuba. Nine hours later the gunmen surrendered.

The plane carried six crew members and 67 passengers, including the gunmen. None was harmed.

It was not immediately certain whether the gunmen were Cubans, Cuban sympathizers, or American adventurers. One report indicated they had Spanish names, although they were not identified at a late hour.

Seven hours after the $5 million Boeing 707 landed at International Airport trucks, baggage trailers, ambulances and armed officers still surrounded the plane to prevent its departure. Nearby Ft. Bliss had been advised, but at midmorning no Army troops were at the airport.

There were 67 passengers and a crew of six aboard the flight which originated in Los Angeles and was en route to Houston, Tex.

All but six crewmen and four passengers were released. None of them was injured when officers shot out 10 tires as the plane attempted to taxi and take off.

Continental Airlines said four men boarded the plane at Los Angeles but one passenger, C. J. Gerker, Phoenix, said two of them got on the jet when it stopped in that Arizona city. He said he sat next to one of them.

There was almost immediate speculation, based on Gerker's description of his seat mate, that some of the four might be American adventurers. Gerker said his fellow passenger was young, blond and spoke with no accent.

The FBI said a DCTB had been offered the gunmen and would be flown into El Paso from Houston. Passengers said the gunmen had demanded another plane in exchange for the jet.

Mrs. Adelia Wysong of San Antonio, Tex., a passenger, said that after the airliner left Phoenix, Ariz., the gunmen announced they were taking the plane and flying straight to Havana, but would land at El Paso for fuel.

She said a pregnant woman sitting behind her became hysterical and this apparently led to the decision to release all the passengers except four who remained as hostages.

President Signs Bill Authorizing More Armament Spending

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy signed today a bill to authorize spending an extra billion dollars on missiles, ships and planes to bolster the armed services in the face of Soviet threat against Berlin.

The Senate passed to act on an expanded $47 billion defense money bill including Kennedy's request for an extra $3.5 billion — some of it for items in the newly passed authorization bill. Passage appeared certain, with leaders of both parties endorsing the added funds.

Kennedy acted with rare speed in signing the authorization measure. He penned his name on the bill less than 24 hours after the House rushed it to him by a unanimous 403-0 vote.

Congress already has authorized Kennedy to call to active duty up to 250,000 reservists and to extend active duty tours and enlistments by one year.

varieties only 38 are suitable for flowers.

While it's generally against flower show rules to dye flowers there are many occasions other than flower shows when arrangers would give their kingdom for flowers of a certain color.

Rainbow Magic Floral dyes use the principle of absorption through the stem. Fresh milkweed pod and corn tassels are among the materials that absorb the dyes.

We have yet to hear the first word of satisfaction concerning the horticultural building. It is really a hot place.

The funny part about it is that the fragile flowers endured it better than the dripping fair visitors.

Wednesday's judge said she noticed the exhibits looked perkier on the second day than on the day the exhibits were entered. She said it sort of looked as though the flowers had become accustomed to the heat.

WE AGREE the horticultural building was really hot. But so was the weather. Instead of doing so much fussing, let's be glad we have a special building for flowers.

Ross County has exhibited flower displays in just such a building as long as we can remember. Haven't heard that first "Squawk" from our neighboring exhibitors.

The building could be air conditioned by wise planting of trees

varieties only 38 are suitable for flowers.

While it's generally against flower show rules to dye flowers there are many occasions other than flower shows when arrangers would give their kingdom for flowers of a certain color.

Rainbow Magic Floral dyes use the principle of absorption through the stem. Fresh milkweed pod and corn tassels are among the materials that absorb the dyes.

We have yet to hear the first word of satisfaction concerning the horticultural building. It is really a hot place.

The funny part about it is that the fragile flowers endured it better than the dripping fair visitors.

Wednesday's judge said she noticed the exhibits looked perkier on the second day than on the day the exhibits were entered. She said it sort of looked as though the flowers had become accustomed to the heat.

WE AGREE the horticultural building was really hot. But so was the weather. Instead of doing so much fussing, let's be glad we have a special building for flowers.

Ross County has exhibited flower displays in just such a building as long as we can remember. Haven't heard that first "Squawk" from our neighboring exhibitors.

The building could be air conditioned by wise planting of trees and vines. Or it might be that with every club contributing we could actually purchase a real air conditioner.

Here's a project for all the county garden clubs to cooperate on. And we do mean all the clubs.

The horticulture building could be landscaped with flowers that bloomed during fair season. In time there might be a grove of trees with outdoor furniture for weary fair visitors.

Valerie May, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roger May, was attired in a white dress for judging of 4-H sewing projects. She and her mother were both happy about the judging. Just a few seconds later Valerie had switched to more casual fair clothes. The white dress was gone but the sparkle in her eye was still there.

Mrs. Roger May won on a flower exhibit. The Mays are all County Fair boosters. Mrs. May says she entered the flower show on general principles — to help the exhibits — and the ribbon was a by-product but a very pleasant surprise.

Those little booths and stands along the midway did a land office business in souvenir umbrellas last night as drenching rains poured across the Pickaway County Fairgrounds.

Busiest man at the Fair about 8:15 p. m. yesterday was County Commissioner Lloyd Melvin, a volunteer grandstand ticket salesman. As most of the Fairgoers scurried for the comparatively dry shelter of the stadium, the erstwhile county father found his booth swamped with customers.

We don't mean to dwell on the subject, but rain during a summer Fair does produce some hilarious insights into human nature. One petite miss daintily tossed some pebbles into the muddy torrent rushing down the center of the midway to check the current. She pulled off her tennis shoes and forged the "rapids" in the best style of seamanship.

Other Pickaway Countians suddenly developed an amazing athletic prowess as they jumped, straddled or sloshed through the streams.

COMMENT of one veteran Fair official: "Well, no one's really going to get hurt out here this year unless they're made of sugar and melt in the water."

A refreshing ingenuity came into play while midway crowds were waiting for the rain to halt last night. While most adults huddled under awnings or in the grandstand or Coliseum, a group of teenagers took refuge in the penny arcade at the end of the midway. The music wasn't stereo and the sawdust floor was somewhat soggy, but the young people had a great time of it all, singing, dancing and chatting with friends.

The best observation was that of an elderly gentleman standing in the same tent — "The young can have fun under any condition."

The long arm of the Law plays no favorites: Deputy Sheriff Neil Childress, on duty last night at the Fairgrounds, reported he was operating his private car in a series of hurried shopping trips earlier yesterday. During a couple of these frantic dashes to stores, the Pickaway County lawman neglected to "feed" his parking meter. When he returned citations from City Police for overtime parking were tucked neatly under his windshield wipers.

A brief flurry of excitement came about during yesterday's Pet Parade when a cute little pony pulling a cart stampeded. The frisky animal zoomed up the race track, with the cart upside down, past several children and their pets. Fortunately, no one was injured.

Col. Jim Ford, handling the public address system for the Cloverleaf Pony Club show and the Pet Parade, had no little amount of fun teasing Fair King David McDonald. Ford, utilizing the PA set, offered to obtain young ladies' phone numbers for the handsome 'Fair King.

The Pickaway County Fair normally causes a slowdown in Circleville's business activity. Apparently "Fair fever" has also taken a grip on area contractors and realtors.

For the first time in many years, no real estate transfers have been filed in County Recorder Florence Campbell's office over a four-day period.

"This is the slowest things have ever been in our office," Mrs. Campbell commented today. She noted several impending transfers have been brought to her attention, but none of these have as yet been filed.

"Everyone's enjoying the Fair" is the most common explanation given by county officials for the general slackening of the Court-house pace this week.

Police Probe Vandalism, 2 Entry Attempts

Circleville Police investigated a vandalism report at the construction site near the South Court St. School today in addition to checking two reports of breaking and entering yesterday.

The vandalism at the school building was reported by officials of the Geiger Brothers Construction Co. Officers William Brungs and William Goff reported that four plugs were removed from sewer pipes. They said gravel was poured down them.

Rocks and gravel were also discovered inside the building, apparently thrown there through a hole in the wall.

DAMAGE at the school was estimated at $200 according to Sgt. Turney Ross.

Clarence H. Robinson, 375 Weldon Ave., told officers someone had broken into his grandson's residence at 369 Weldon Ave. Several articles of bed clothing were taken, but nothing else seemed to be disturbed.

The second entry was at the Dean's Potato Chip Co., 900 S. Pickaway St.

The building was not entered. However, one delivery truck was broken into and an attempt was made on a second delivery vehicle.

Patrolmen Brungs and Goff said a door latch on the truck had been knocked off. The extent of missing articles or damage was not determined.

Screws were removed from the door latch on the other truck, although it was not entered.

He Breaks Only Halfway from Jail

BOWLING GREEN, Ohio (AP) — Richard Davis broke half way out of Rossford Village Jail Wednesday night.

It took the combined efforts of the northern Wood County village's fire and police departments to get him the rest of the way out—only to be taken to Wood County Jail here.

Davis, a 20-year-old Toledo resident, had broken a window in his cell and tried to crawl through the bars. He became stuck and couldn't move either in or out.

Youths Treated For Minor Hurts

Two young girls were treated for minor injuries at Berger Hospital yesterday.

Rebecca Haddox, 8, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Haddox, Williamsport, fell through a glass flower box and lacerated her lower left leg and right ankle.

Thelma Hampp, 8, daughter of Georgia Hampp, 613 Beavers Ave., suffered a left heel injury on an unknown object.

Gunmen Quit

sheriff's officers — had rushed to the airport and stood by.

Passengers said the hijackers Howard Berg, public relations man for Continental, said the airline offered to trade a DC7 for the jet but the hijackers turned it down.

The tower at one point gave the plane clearance to take off. As it rolled forward, officers opened fire at the tires and the huge jet slowed to a stop. It was immediately ringed again by vehicles.

People swarmed around the plane, apparently unconcerned about the possibility of gunfire from the hijackers. Five mechanics were underneath the plane at one point.

Attempts were made to hold spectators back but some pushed to within 20 yards of the plane.

With the Texas desert heat rising and the plane's air conditioner off, one witness to the wild scene predicted "they won't last long in there." The thermometer has been reaching nearly 100 degrees daily.

Jerry McCauley, 18, a passenger from Sacramento, Calif., gave this account:

"These two got aboard at Los Angeles, origin of the flight, or at Phoenix, Ariz. About 10 minutes out of El Paso, the older one about 45 or 50, went into the cockpit and pointed a .45 caliber pistol at the pilot's head although we didn't know it at the time.

"Everybody on the plane seemed to think they were Cubans but the boy had blond hair and looked like an ordinary North American high schooler with a butch haircut," he said.

The older man appeared to be the father of the boy. The boy called him "Pop," said McCauley, one of the 25 Air Force recruits en route to Lackland Air Force Base.

The pilot told the passengers to remain quiet and stay in their seats for their own protection.

The hijackers radioed that unless they be allowed to take off they would shoot the crew members.

The plane then was given permission to take off.

The plane's engines were started and as the plane started down the runway, a border patrol car darted from the side of the runway, raced along "the left side of the plane, spraying bullets from a machine gun.

Ten tires were punctured. There were bullet holes visible in the two left engines and the left side of the fuselage.

Officers later said the airline's president, Robert Six of Denver, had given orders that the plane was not to take off, and that was the reason they opened fire.

Police cars, service trucks, ambulances and baggage trucks sped to the plane and formed a ring around it.

Mechanics scrambled around under the plane's fuselage and wings, inspecting damage, but drew no attention from the occupants of the plane.

Officers resumed their negotiations via radio with the gunmen. Continental identified the crew members as Capt. B. D. Richards, 1st Officer R. C. Wagner, 2nd Officer Norm Simons, Director of passenger service Lou Finch and stewardesses Tony Besset and Lois Carnage, all of Los Angeles.

The plane was the third American transport plane hijacked since last May.

On July 24 a gunman placed a pistol at the head of an Eastern Air Lines pilot and made him fly his prop-jet Electra to Cuba. The plane had taken off from Miami for Dallas. The plane, worth $3½

An Intimate Link

If a man plants a tree and watches it grow over the years, he has a personal, intimate link with the mystery of life. There is more to this experience of living through the cycling seasons than the bread and butter of daily routine.

If a man plants a tree he has established a link with the verities that govern the flowering world. Within a tree is the answer to problems that have beset man's mind since ancient days when he first watched the moon wax and wane and the sun rise and set.

The seed of a tree is the kernel of life;

cut open an acorn and within that shell is the embryo. Billions of seeds fall to the earth each year. Many fall on barren ground. Many start the live process and die. When a man plants a tree, he can choose the species; he can select the spot; he can nurture it with food and water.

Year by year he can watch the growth of that which he has planted. The slender shoot reaches toward the sky. The small limbs become large, and the birds come to build their houses.

Another Look at Good Old Days

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK (AP)—Let's have another look back at the calmer times when people could go to sleep without worrying over whether the next morning they'd have to face a fresh world crisis.

Sometimes it's a blessing to have these days to recall. It's a compensation for growing older. So, count yourself among the lucky ones if you can still remember when—

Anybody who bought a $10,000 house was considered well-to-do. If you got a $150 weekly salary, that was the amount they put in your pay envelope. There were no such things as deductions.

When you went to the store for a gallon of coal oil, the grocer always stuck a raw potato on the spout to keep the can from leaking.

Babe Ruth earned almost as much for knocking 60 home runs in a year as many 16-year-old kids now get for signing as bonus players.

If you gave a child a penny, he didn't look up and ask, "What's it good for?"

It was regarded as a national disaster when movie stars Doug Fairbanks and Mary Pickford got a divorce.

You stepped on a running board before entering an automobile, and there was no such thing as a gasoline tax.

Ministers denounced the rumble seat as the greatest threat to the morals of the younger generation.

You could impress the neighbors with a $200 funeral.

The most popular indoor hobby in America was making home brew in the basement.

A draft was a breeze that seeped through a window—not an order issued from Washington.

A good pool player had a wider circle of admirers than a fellow who beat par on a golf course, and any man over 20 who still played tennis was put down as a sissy.

A wife was judged by the skill with which she could darn her husband's socks.

There was only one wonder drug—Aspirin—and nobody had heard of a virus.

If you were sick, the doctor came to see you; you didn't have to go see him.

Only mothers and old folks used rocking chairs.

Teen-agers took orders instead of giving them—and usually asked permission before using the telephone.

The best way to have security in your old age was to raise a family of ten kids. Remember?

Cuba Will Always Raise Doubts

By George Sokolsky

Although it is now settled that the United States will make its stand against Soviet Russia at Berlin and not in Cuba, the Cuban situation will always raise doubts in the American mind. Have we not lost too much by the consistent policy of permitting Castro to get away with it?

In his connections one has Nathaniel Weyl's "Red Star Over Cuba", now revised, brought up-to-date and issued as a paperback.

Nathaniel Weyl is a former Communist who has turned on the Party and has done yeoman service exposing it. Familiar with Communist language and Communist techniques, Weyl is not deluded by Soviet propaganda although as a convert from Communism he is fanatically anti-Communist.

Weyl establishes beyond doubt the Communist nature of the Castro revolution. This may not be necessary for the initiated, although there are still many in the United States who believe that Castro is a noble dictator who leads his people to a better life. They are like the deluded ones who spoke of Mao Tse-tung's Communists as Agrarian Reformers.

Nathaniel Weyl has made as thorough a study as is possible for the layman of Cuban fiasco. Apparently he had close contact with primary sources. President Kennedy has issued all kinds of ukases limiting communication between government officials and the press. Such an attitude never succeeds. It only gives opportunity to the able newspapermen to demonstrate their talents.

Regarding Cuba many attempts have been made to be secretive; all have failed. During the campaign, John F. Kennedy used bold words which were not implemented after the inauguration. The President has never explained this change in attitude, which is unfortunate because it leads people to wonder whether his bite is as sharp as his bark.

The case of Richard Nixon is different. Weyl says: "As early as April 1959, Nixon had held a three-hour conversation with Fidel Castro in Washington, had reported back to President Eisenhower that he was convinced that Castro was a tool of Communism and had recommended that the United States proceed forthwith to the training and arming of Cuban freedom fighters. This recommendation was rejected."

However, during the campaign, Nixon was very mild on the Cuban question, either because he did not wish to embarrass President Eisenhower or attack the CIA. President Kennedy was apparently embarrassed by being a Democrat because some of the leading personalities in his party were opposed to his taking any action against Castro. This was specially true of Adlai Stevenson. Weyl says of Stevenson's attitude:

"Adlai E. Stevenson urged 'a categorical promise that American forces would not be used in Cuba.' His interest was in being able to justify U. S. action before the United Nations. He was taking a stand in favor of expediency, not international law."

Weyl attributes much of the President's negative attitude to Adlai Stevenson and has devoted considerable space to an effort to prove the point. The problem, however, was much more complicated. Several of the countries of Latin America were fearful of the reinstallation of the Monroe Doctrine and the employment of Marines to maintain a United States form of government in Central and South America. This would have raised many problems which were not particularly related to Cuba but which might have involved us in many unfortunate situations with some countries.

There was also the possibility that Soviet Russia was playing a not unusual Communist trick, namely, it would make trouble in Cuba and Laos, diverting American military strength to those areas and thus throwing the United States off focus while Soviet Russia attacked Berlin.

If this was Soviet strategy, the United States should have kept far away from the Cuban situation at the present time.

On the other hand, if we calculated that that was such a program why did the United States encourage Cuban refugees in this country to aim for an invasion of Cuba, such preparation culminating in the fiasco of Pig Bay?

The greatest loss to the United States is the general assumption that Castro was put in power by "The New York Times" and the CIA. The CIA has never replied to the criticism of its conduct and Weyl's book is full of such criticism. The whole truth requires a CIA account of its activities in connection with the refugees' invasion of Cuba. Perhaps the documentation of that situation will never be made available.

WINDUP—Adolf Eichmann uses a pointer to illustrate a part of his testimony at his trial in Jerusalem in the World War II killing of some 6,000,000 Jews in Europe.

Try and Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

SPEAKER SAM RAYBURN, breakfasting with President Coolidge one morning, kidded him about his reputation for long silences. The President explained seriously, "I found out early in life you don't have to explain something you haven't said." Adds Speaker Rayburn, "I can't think of anything that's better for a politician to know than that."

A sharp looking youngster asked a clerk at a photo supply store if it made life sized enlargements. "We sure do, sonny," said the clerk. "In fact, that's our specialty." The youngster produced a snap of the Empire State Building.

Dinah Shore took her young daughter to the circus recently and once seated, was immediately besieged for autographs. "Please go away," implored Dinah's daughter. "She's not Dinah Shore this afternoon. She's my mommy."

Inside You and Yours

By BURTON H. FERN, M. D.

1. Epilepsy is always inherited. True—False—

2. Epilepsy-suffers all have convulsions. True—False—

3. Water makes convulsions worse. True—False—

4. Idleness can trigger convulsions. True—False—

5. Fasting helps control convulsions. True—False—

1. False—not if you mean any one who suffers convulsions. Every one is vulnerable to convulsions; some are more vulnerable than others. An old brain injury, a brain tumor, increased pressure inside the skull—all can bring on convulsions that pass for "epilepsy."

Technically, epilepsy means the cause is unknown and possibly inherited.

2. False—not the kind of convulsions you can see. The basic difficulty always stems from sudden, uncontrollable brain cell activity. But, like a TV set, the trouble varies when different parts get out of line.

Convulsions erupt as sudden activity spreads across the brain. A limited burst may start an arm or leg twitching.

Overactive brain cells which normally register feeling, make you smell odors, see lights, hear noises or feel pins and needles—depending on the kind of cells affected. Elsewhere in the brain, explosive activity may cause lightning-like trances, temper tantrums or possibly no trouble at all.

3. True. Dehydrated brain cells lie quiet. Watered-down cells are ready to fly out of control. Too much water can swell the brain and throw anyone into convulsions.

4. True. An idle brain is free to burst into frenzied activity. Frustration and worry make things worse. Steady work can stop convulsions immune to the most powerful drugs.

5. True. Alkaline brains are more vulnerable to convulsions. Acidity protects against seizures.

Fasting forces the body to burn stored fat. Half-digested fats become acids that circulate through the blood stream, calming irritated brain cells. Eating lots of fat but little sugar can do the same without your sacrificing valuable pounds.

Imagine—convulsions-control from living off the fat of the land! Dr. Fern's mailbox is wide open for letters from readers. While he cannot undertake to answer individual letters, he will use readers' questions in his column whenever possible and when they are of general interest. Address your letters to Dr. Fern in care of this newspaper.

Looking Back in Pickaway County

TEN YEARS AGO
The Circleville Junior Women's Club entered a national contest on "Building Freedom with Youth."

The Circleville Chamber of Commerce invited local telephone company officials to an open meeting to explain reasons for a proposed phone rate hike.

County 4-H'ers earned $21,455.80 from the annual livestock sale at the Fair.

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO
A garbage collection program was initiated here by A. Thornton, Montclair Ave. Ten cents was to be charged for semi-weekly collections.

Pickaway County auto dealers sold 64 vehicles during July.

An Intimate Link

If a man plants a tree and watches it grow over the years, he has a personal, intimate link with the mystery of life. There is more to this experience of living through the cycling seasons than the bread and butter of daily routine.

If a man plants a tree he has established a link with the verities that govern the flowering world. Within a tree is the answer to problems that have beset man's mind since ancient days when he first watched the moon wax and wane and the sun rise and set.

The seed of a tree is the kernel of life;

cut open an acorn and within that shell is the embryo. Billions of seeds fall to the earth each year. Many fall on barren ground. Many start the live process and die. When a man plants a tree, he can choose the species; he can select the spot; he can nurture it with food and water.

Year by year he can watch the growth of that which he has planted. The slender shoot reaches toward the sky. The small limbs become large, and the birds come to build their houses.

Another Look at Good Old Days

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK (AP)—Let's have another look back at the calmer times when people could go to sleep without worrying over whether the next morning they'd have to face a fresh world crisis.

Sometimes it's a blessing to have these days to recall. It's a compensation for growing older. So, count yourself among the lucky ones if you can still remember when—

Anybody who bought a $10,000 house was considered well-to-do. If you got a $150 weekly salary, that was the amount they put in your pay envelope. There were no such things as deductions.

When you went to the store for a gallon of coal oil, the grocer always stuck a raw potato on the spout to keep the can from leaking.

Babe Ruth earned almost as much for knocking 60 home runs

in a year as many 16-year-old kids now get for signing as bonus players.

If you gave a child a penny, he didn't look up and ask, "What's it good for?"

It was regarded as a national disaster when movie stars Doug Fairbanks and Mary Pickford got a divorce.

You stepped on a running board before entering an automobile, and there was no such thing as a gasoline tax.

Ministers denounced the rumble seat as the greatest threat to the morals of the younger generation. You could impress the neighbors with a $200 funeral.

The most popular indoor hobby in America was making home brew in the basement.

A draft was a breeze that seeped through a window—not an order issued from Washington.

A good pool player had a wider circle of admirers than a fellow who beat par on a golf course, and any man over 20 who still played tennis was put down as a sissy.

A wife was judged by the skill with which she could darn her husband's socks.

There was only one wonder drug—aspirin—and nobody had heard of a virus.

If you were sick, the doctor came to see you; you didn't have to go see him.

Only mothers and old folks used rocking chairs.

Teen-agers took orders instead of giving them—and usually asked permission before using the telephone.

The best way to have security in your old age was to raise a family of ten kids. Remember?

Cuba Will Always Raise Doubts

By George Sokolsky

Although it is now settled that the United States will make its stand against Soviet Russia at Berlin and not in Cuba, the Cuban situation will always raise doubts in the American mind. Have we not lost too much by the consistent policy of permitting Castro to get away with it?

In his connections one has Nathaniel Weyl's "Red Star Over Cuba", now revised, brought up-to-date and issued as a paperback.

Nathaniel Weyl is a former Communist who has turned on the Party and has done yeoman service exposing it. Familiar with Communist language and Communist techniques, Weyl is not deluded by Soviet propaganda although as a convert from Communism he is fanatically anti-Communist.

Weyl establishes beyond doubt the Communist nature of the Castro revolution. This may not be necessary for the initiated, although there are still many in the United States who believe that Castro is a noble dictator who leads his people to a better life. They are like the deluded ones who spoke of Mao Tse-tung's Communists as Agrarian Reformers.

Nathaniel Weyl has made as thorough a study as is possible for the layman of Cuban fiasco. Apparently he had close contact with primary sources. President Kennedy has issued all kinds of ukases limiting communication between government officials and the press. Such an attitude never succeeds. It only gives opportunity to the abler newspapermen to demonstrate their talents.

Regarding Cuba many attempts have been made to be secretive; all have failed. During the campaign, John F. Kennedy used bold words which were not implemented after the inauguration. The President has never explained this change in attitude, which is unfortunate because it leads people to wonder whether his bite is as sharp as his bark.

The case of Richard Nixon is different. Weyl says: "As early as April 1959, Nixon had held a three-hour conversation with Fidel Castro in Washington, had reported back to President Eisenhower that he was convinced that Castro was a tool of Communism and had recommended that the United States proceed forthwith to the training and arming of Cuban freedom fighters. This recommendation was rejected."

However, during the campaign, Nixon was very mild on the Cuban question, either because he did not wish to embarrass President Eisenhower or a lack of CIA. President Kennedy was apparently embarrassed by being a Democrat because some of the leading personalities in his party were opposed to his taking any action against Castro. This was especially true of Adlai Stevenson. Weyl says of Stevenson's attitude:

"Adlai E. Stevenson urged 'a categorical promise that American forces would not be used in Cuba.' His interest was in being able to justify U. S. action before the United Nations. He was taking a stand in favor of expediency, not international law."

Weyl attributes much of the President's negative attitude to Adlai Stevenson and has devoted considerable space to an effort to prove the point. The problem, however, was much more complicated. Several of the countries of Latin America were fearful of the reinstallation of the Monroe Doctrine and the employment of Marines to maintain a United States form of government in Central and South America. This would have raised many problems which were not particularly related to Cuba but which might have involved us in many unfortunate situations with some countries.

There was also the possibility that Soviet Russia was playing a not unusual Communist trick, namely, it would make trouble in Cuba and Laos, diverting American military strength to those areas and thus throwing the United States off focus while Soviet Russia attacked Berlin.

If this was Soviet strategy, the United States should have kept far away from the Cuban situation at the present time.

On the other hand, if we calculated that that was such a program why did the United States encourage Cuban refugees in this country to aim for an invasion of Cuba, such preparation culminating in the fiasco of Pig Bay?

The greatest loss to the United States is the general assumption that Castro was put in power by "The New York Times" and the CIA. The CIA has never replied to the criticism of its conduct and Weyl's book is full of such criticism. The whole truth requires a CIA account of its activities in connection with the refugees' invasion of Cuba. Perhaps the documentation of that situation will never be made available.

Try and Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

SPEAKER SAM RAYBURN, breakfasting with President Coolidge one morning, kidded him about his reputation for long silences. The President explained seriously, "I found out early in life you don't have to explain something you haven't said." Adds Speaker Rayburn, "I can't think of anything that's better for a politician to know than that."

A sharp looking youngster asked a clerk at a photo supply store if it made life sized enlargements. "We sure do, sonny," said the clerk. "In fact, that's our specialty." The youngster produced a snap of the Empire State Building.

Dinah Shore took her young daughter to the circus recently and once seated, was immediately besieged for autographs. "Please go away," implored Dinah's daughter. "She's not Dinah Shore this afternoon. She's my mommy."

Inside You and Yours

1. Epilepsy is always inherited. True—False—

2. Epilepsy-suffers all have convulsions. True—False—

3. Water makes convulsions worse. True—False—

4. Idleness can trigger convulsions. True—False—

5. Fasting helps control convulsions. True—False—

1. False—not if you mean anyone who suffers convulsions. Every one is vulnerable to convulsions; some are more vulnerable than others. An old brain injury, a brain tumor, increased pressure inside the skull—all can bring on convulsions that pass for "epilepsy."

Technically, epilepsy means the cause is unknown and possibly inherited.

2. False—not the kind of convulsions you can see. The basic difficulty always stems from sudden, uncontrollable brain cell activity. But, like a TV set, the trouble varies when different parts get out of line.

Convulsions erupt as sudden activity spreads across the brain. A limited burst may start an arm or leg twitching.

Overactive brain cells which normally register feeling, make you smell odors, see lights, hear noises or feel pins and needles—depending on the kind of cells affected. Elsewhere in the brain, explosive activity may cause lightning-like trances, temper tantrums or possibly no trouble at all.

3. True. Dehydrated brain cells lie quiet. Watered-down cells are ready to fly out of control. Too much water can swell the brain and throw anyone into convulsions.

4. True. An idle brain is free to burst into frenzied activity. Frustration and worry make things worse. Steady work can stop convulsions immune to the most powerful drugs.

5. True. Alkaline brains are more vulnerable to convulsions. Acidity protects against seizures.

Fasting forces the body to burn stored fat. Half-digested fats become acids that circulate through the blood stream, calming irritated brain cells. Eating lots of fat but little sugar can do the same without your sacrificing valuable pounds.

Imagine—convulsions-control from living off the fat of the land! Dr. Fern's mailbox is wide open for letters from readers. While he cannot undertake to answer individual letters, he will use readers' questions in his column whenever possible and when they are of general interest. The Business World

By Sam Dawson

NEW YORK (AP)—When the stock market closed Tuesday, July 25, the Dow Jones price index of 30 leading industrial stocks stood at 686.37.

That night President Kennedy told the nation he proposed to step up defense spending sharply and increase the size of the armed forces.

When the market closed Tuesday, Aug. 1, the index stood at 713.94, a record high.

Congress had been quick to start legislative moves to put the President's plans in motion. Stock traders had been even quicker to put their own evaluation on what lies ahead for business.

This doesn't mean that prices necessarily will advance steadily, nor that stock traders may have second thoughts now and then. The President's move, however, was just what the market needed to move it out of a period of hesitation.

For business, as distinguished from the stock market, the new arms buildup merely adds momentum to a move already under way. Even before the President spoke, business fully expected steadily increasing activity in the months ahead.

And the extra government spending will come at a time when industry is particularly ready and able both to meet the demands to be put upon it and to profit from the government's action.

Many industries have idle capacity. This means that any increase in demand can be easily handled. Also, the nation's stubborn total of unemployment means that the manpower, except for some specialized skills, is available.

For stockholders the prospects are even brighter. Profits already have started to rise from their recession setback. As sales rise, profits should rise at an even faster pace. That's what stock traders are looking for.

A call of reserves and militia could hurt some companies if they lost key men. But here, too, the growing labor force and the large number of jobless mean business can adjust more easily than if the Berlin crisis had come during boom times and a labor shortage.

Most firms have their inventories in good shape. Excess stocks have been used up. Supplies are available if business spurts.

Companies with overseas connections also see more opportunities in the offing, now that the threat of a possible trade war between two rival European blocs seems dim.

The move of England, Denmark, Norway and Ireland to seek closer ties with the Common Market nations—France, West Germany, Italy, the Netherlands, Belgium, Luxembourg—forecasts further growth in the already booming European economy. That can mean more demand for American industrial materials and perhaps for American consumers goods to be sold to more prosperous Europeans.

All this is why the stock market has taken on a rosy glow. But Wall Street is a place of quickly changing moods. And the cautious will remember that. In today's world there are many probabilities but few iron clad certainties.

Visitors to the Pickaway County Fair have a better opportunity to see the efforts of county youth this year than ever before.

Various projects and exhibits by members of 4-H units and FFA clubs have dominated the Fairgrounds. Livestock and swine judging has been held in the show arena.

With the addition of the new 4-H

Building at the northwest end of the Fairgrounds, girls have almost an exclusive show place.

However, the coliseum is the centralized house of numerous projects and exhibits ranging from farm electricity exhibits by 4-H and FFA members to conservation and rope projects.

HERE is a list of the miscellaneous projects and entries judged or graded yesterday.

Electric I — Johnny Hoffines, first; Pat Darst, second; Stephen Sykes, third.

Electric II — Johnny Davis, first, and Terry Darst, second.

Electric III — Chuck McKenzie received the only award in this class.

Field Crops — Charles Parker and Jim Rowland both received an "A" for their entry.

Vegetable Gardening — Edward Foreman, Mike Alloy, Bill Diehl, and Floyd Grady, all received an "A"; Charles Krieder, Mike Hender, Larry Murphy, and Mark Downing, all received a "B".

Draft Boards Swamped Again

Calls by Registrants Up 400 Pct. in Ohio

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — "It seems a pity that it takes a period of national emergency to awaken our young men to their responsibilities under the selective service law," Ohio's harried selective service director said Tuesday.

Col. Raymond E. Clouse said that local boards have reported an increase of 400 per cent in the number of registrants calling for information. The deluge of questions has had its good features, he quickly added.

"We are gratified that the number of important changes in status being reported by Ohio registrants will assure that our records will be more current than has been the case in the recent past.

"Reporting changes of address, family status, critical occupation or reserve affiliation will help many of our registrants avoid inconvenience and embarrassment in these days of heavy physical examination calls."

However, Col. Clouse had one bit of advice:

Write — don't telephone your draft board if you want to know your draft status.

He pointed out that only men born on or after Aug. 30, 1922, need concern themselves at this time. Any men born before that date are not affected by the present selective service law.

Six categories of 1-A's were listed, to be selected for induction in this order: (1) delinquents (2) volunteers (3) non-fathers from age 19 to 26, oldest first; (4) fathers 19 to 26; (5) over age 26 whose liability was extended because of deferment (6) under 19.

Other classifications which now exist are 1-C (in service); 1-D (reserve status); 1-O (conscientious objector); 1-S (temporary student deferment); 2-A (occupational deferment); 2-C (farm deferment); 2-S (student deferment); 3-A (dependency); 4-A (veteran or sole surviving son); 4-B (public official); 4-C (alien); 4-D (ministers or ministerial students); 4-F (physically, mentally or morally unfit); 5-A (overage).

Science Studies Insect Dust, 'Snipe' Smokers

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Insect allergy, hazards in partially smoked cigarettes, and safe new sedatives are items in the medical news:

Insect Dust

Bits and pieces of common insects floating in the air are an important cause of hay fever and asthma, says an allergy specialist.

House flies, May flies, aphids, beetles, mites and other creatures contribute to the dust which humans inhale.

Some people are allergic only to the insect dust, while others get their troubles from a combination of the dust, molds, and pollens. The insect allergy is more common in Southern than in Northern states.

Many victims can be desensitized with anti-allergy shots, Dr. Samuel M. Feinberg of Northwestern University writes in Consultant magazine.

Relighters

The habit of relighting half-consumed cigarettes may double a smoker's chances of getting lung cancer, say three British physicians.

They checked on 700 patients in Manchester hospitals. Among persons smoking 10 to 19 cigarettes daily, there were twice as many cases of lung tumors among those who relit cigarettes. The same held true for persons smoking 20 to 29 cigarettes daily, but differences were less clear among those smoking 30 or more, Drs. John Dark, M. Pemberton and Marion Russell write in The Lancet.

"If relighting is a factor in lung cancer, it might go part way to explain the much greater incidence of the disease in Britain than in the United States where, since cigarettes are cheaper, there may be less temptation to relight half-smoked 'dumps' or partially consumed cigarettes," they said.

Safe Sedatives

Barbiturates are estimated to account for 800 to 900 suicides a year.

But now researchers tell of two new sedatives which they claim induce sleep but are safe regardless of over-dosage. One is a synthetic developed in Germany, the other a barbiturate combined with a restorative which takes over if the person takes too many pills, says World Medical News.

U.S. Steel Production Headed for High Peak

NEW YORK (AP) — Steel production is headed for a higher-than-expected peak late this year, Iron Age said today.

The metalworking trade publication said predictions of close to 100 million tons of steel produced this year seem reasonable.

Output now is at about 60 per cent of capacity and probably won't average more than 65 per cent in the third quarter but 75 to 80 per cent for the fourth quarter is likely, Iron Age said.

Chillicothe Plant To Hold NLRB Poll

CINCINNATI (AP)—The National Labor Relations Board today ordered a collective bargaining election Aug. 9 among 79 employees of the Chillicothe plant of the Johnson-Manville Products Corp. of Ohio.

The vote will be taken on whether the workers will be represented by the United Papermakers and Paperworkers Union, the United Rubber Workers Union, the International Chemical Workers or by no union.

Entomologists estimate that insects ruin at least one tenth of man's crops and destroy more timber each year than forest fires and fungus rots.

Judge Expects To Step Down In Vice Probe

NEWPORT, Ky. (AP)—Blaming "pressure from Frankfort," Circuit Judge Ray Murphy said Tuesday night he is almost certain he will not preside over a grand jury hearing into a woman's charge Newport officials were on payoff lists.

The grand jury is scheduled to meet Aug. 14 to investigate charges by Mrs. Hattie Jackson that several officials — including Judge Murphy — and police officers were on payoff lists of houses of prostitution where she worked.

Mrs. Jackson made the allegations in testimony last month in ouster hearings at Frankfort against four northern Kentucky law officers.

Atty. Gen. John Breckinridge said he asked both Judge Murphy and commonwealth's attorney William Wise — also named in Mrs. Jackson's testimony—to disqualify themselves but had taken no action to remove the judge.

Murphy said it was virtually certain he would leave the bench during the grand jury investigation "either voluntarily or by direct order from the court of appeals and the way it looks now it will be voluntarily."

Both Murphy and Wise denied Mrs. Jackson's charges.

Motorist Faces Intoxication Count

A Pickaway County man faced charges of driving under the influence of intoxicants yesterday in Circleville Municipal Court.

Forest Moore, 46, Route 1, was fined $250, sentenced to 10 days in jail and had his driver's license suspended for two years by Judge Sterling Lamb. Five days of the sentence were suspended and Moore was placed on probation for two years. He was arrested by city police.

Other traffic cases handled by the city court were: a $24 bond forfeiture by Billy Roger Ratliff, 27, Fenton, Mich., for speeding at 65 miles per hour in a 50 mile zone. He was arrested by the State Highway Patrol.

Solon Urges Fallout Shelters, Not Pools

WASHINGTON (AP) — Americans, facing the possibility of nuclear attack, should be building fallout shelters instead of backyard barbecues and swimming pools, Rep. William E. Minshall, R-Ohio, said today.

Minshall, in testimony before a congressional committee, said Pentagon officials have estimated 100 million Americans would die in an all-out thermonuclear attack but that more than half could be saved "if vigorous Civil Defense measures are taken."

Minshall testified in behalf of his bill to allow tax deductions for building shelters.

NEW YORK (AP)—A ammonia plant at Ironton, Ohio, will be placed under control of a digital computer before the end of the year, Allied Chemical Corp. announced today.

Crisis in Germany

Soviet Zone Given Variety of Names

Editor's Note: Following is the third in a series of articles telling the situation in Berlin and Germany, now the centers of East-West dispute.

By JOHN BAUSMAN

BERLIN (AP) — The country known abroad as East Germany has a variety of names. But no German calls it East Germany.

East Germany's Communists call their country the German Democratic Republic — or GDR. Or Democratic Germany. They regard it as an independent German state, worthy of recognition as such.

West Germans still refer to it as the Soviet zone of occupation. Or they call it just "the zone." They regard its government as a Soviet puppet regime forced upon the people and not worthy of recognition. In fact they feel it is so unworthy of recognition that the West German government breaks off relations with any country except the Soviet Union that extends official recognition to East Germany.

There is another West German term for East Germany — "Middle Germany." This is based on the theory that beyond "Middle Germany" lies an East Germany made up of those eastern parts of prewar Germany now assigned to Poland and the Soviet Union.

Whatever you call it, East Germany is the smaller segment of divided Germany. With an area of 41,700 square miles, it is less than a third the size of West Germany's 143,200 square miles. Its 17-million population compares with 52 million for West Germany.

The country's boundaries—from the Baltic Sea on the north to Czechoslovakia on the south, from the Oder-Neisse border with Poland on the east to the Iron Curtain border with West Germany — were drawn at the allied conference at Potsdam in 1945, right after World War I. At that time East Germany was set up as the Soviet zone of occupation.

The Soviet occupiers ruled with a strong hand. They dismantled factories and tore up railroad track as reparations to be shipped off to the Soviet Union.

Early local elections in the Soviet zone showed the majority of voters opposed to the Communist-run Socialist Unity party. But with Soviet backing, the party gained control of the zone's political life and became its governing party when the German Democratic Republic was proclaimed on Oct. 7, 1949.

This was the Soviet answer to the establishment of the Federal Republic of (West) Germany by France, the United States and Great Britain a month earlier.

By that time the break between the Soviet Union and its war allies was fully recognized. Efforts to cooperate in Berlin had long since collapsed and the city had separate governments for the East and West sectors. There had also been the allied airlift, lasting nearly a year, to break the Soviet blockade of Berlin and foil that first attempt to force the allies out of the city.

East Germany, impoverished by stern reparations demands, was now called on to build itself up as a flourishing Soviet satellite. A heavy industrialization program left little production for consumers. Farms were collectivized and private firms and tradesmen were squeezed. For four years the East Germans submitted to their fate except for nearly 200,000 who escaped to the West each year.

Then on June 16, 1953, building workers in East Berlin demonstrated against heavy work requirements and poor food supplies.

The next day, June 17, popular uprisings broke out in East Berlin and other major cities. The people demanded free elections, food and an end to tyranny. The Soviets proclaimed martial law and brought in tanks and troops to stop the rioting. Leaders of the uprising were arrested and executed.

The June 17 revolt was short-lived and brutally suppressed. It got no support from the West. No other has broken out so far.

But the continued stream of refugees, totaling more than 2.5 million since 1949, has been a constant reminder of the regime's unpopularity.

Can a regime, clearly unpopular with a large part of its population, count on these forces in a showdown with the West?

Western experts find this hard to assess. Certainly there would be some substantial defections, especially if the people were to defy the Communists openly.

Next: The Refugees.

Weekly Food Review

Turkeys jumped into midsummer popularity among weekend specials offered by supermarkets and neighborhood stores this week.

They are featured by chains in widely scattered cities and are bringing the lowest prices since 1942. Live weight prices in July were down 16 per cent from a year.

Frying chickens and ducks were on the bargain list in some stores. However, beef continued to be the heaviest advertised item among the specials. Prices are low and the supply is heavy. Featured cuts are round, rib and chuck pot roasts and round and rib steaks.

Pork chops are being pushed in some areas. Prices are down 6 to 20 cents a pound from last week. Fish specials are generally limited to swordfish, smelts and colossal shrimp.

Egg prices down as much as 6 cents a dozen from last week.

The Agriculture Department reported supplies of vegetables for the fresh market, excluding melons, will be somewhat smaller this summer than a year ago due to adverse weather in growing areas. However, unusually heavy supplies have driven down the price of potatoes.

Best vegetable buys are beets, cabbage, cauliflower, celery, Chinese cabbage, corn, cucumbers, lettuce, squash, tomatoes and Eastern potatoes.

Among good buys are beans, carrots, greens, spinach, eggplant, endive, escarole, green onions, radishes, parsley, field peas, peppers, okra and California potatoes.

Best buys among fruits are cantaloupes, watermelons, cherries and lemons.

On the good-buy list are plums, pears, apples, large avocados, blueberries, honeydew melons, mangoes, peaches, grapes, apricots and California oranges.

Ohio Assembly Callback Hinted

Governor May Not
Wait until November

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Ohio's 176 legislators are home today for what they hope will be a recess until Nov. 14. However, Gov. Michael V. DiSalle has hinted he may have other ideas on the length of the lawmakers' rest.

The Columbus Dispatch quoted the governor as saying in Washington that he might call a special session before the November date to deal with capital improvements.

The legislature recessed Tuesday night without passing a $45 million measure to finance improvements. The bill died in the Senate at the end of a cleanup session on an 18-18 tie vote.

Republican leaders said they planned to reconsider the capital improvements bill next November along with DiSalle's unprecedented veto of a billion-dollar appropriation for second year state operations.

A skeleton session was held Wednesday for leaders to sign bills and close shop.

Instead of taking final adjournment, both houses recessed in the expectation that such a move would balk a special session call. Only the governor can call the legislature back after final adjournment. Under such a call, only the subjects specified can be considered.

Leaders of the Republican-controlled legislature questioned whether the governor could call the special session. However, Atty. Gen. Mark McElroy indicated he can.

House Speaker Roger Cloud, R-Logan, said the governor had power to act at any time during dire emergencies but that no such situation existed.

Senate Clerk Thomas J. Bateman added that even if the legislature responded to a special call, members could not be compelled to take any action.

Officials said the defeat of the capital improvements bill left school and other construction under contract up in the air, and left funds unavailable for equipping some new facilities already completed. An extra $170,000 for civil defense also was left hanging.

Anderson Installed As Navy Chieftain

ANNAPOLIS, Md. (AP)—Adm. George W. Anderson Jr., 54, a naval aviator, is the new commander of all U. S. Navy ships at sea and stations ashore.

Anderson took over as chief of naval operations in traditional ceremonies at the U. S. Naval Academy Tuesday.

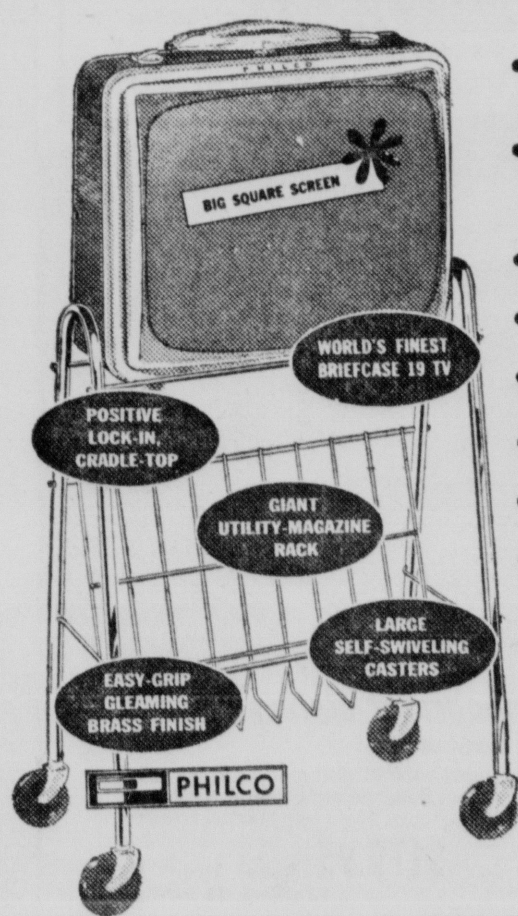

He succeeds Adm. Arleigh A. Burke, retiring after 42 years in the Navy and an unprecedented three terms as CNO.

Burke, 59, said sea power is the "one constant influence on the affairs of men and nations" in the midst of a changing world.

Anderson, elevated to the Navy's top post by President Kennedy, pledged to keep the Navy "on course and steaming strong, regardless of what the future may portend."

Dear Abby...

By Abigail VanBuren

Don't Worry About Dream Rival

DEAR ABBY: If anybody asks you if she should marry a widower who was married to the same woman for 42 years, tell her not to.

I have been married six months to a widower who is wonderful to me when he is awake, but he calls me Ida in his sleep. I was married and widowed twice, and never once called my present husband Wendell or Herbert. If I can be careful, so can he. I am certainly not interested in a divorce at my age, but I would like to know how to handle this heartless old cuss.

HURT

DEAR HURT: It is not easy to forget a 42-year-old hitch, so be patient with him. Your husband isn't responsible for what he calls you in his sleep. (At least you know who Ida was.)

DEAR ABBY: The boy I like is 20, but my mother won't let me go out with him because I am only 15. My mother says this boy is too fast for me, and is only out for what he can get. Abby, he does have a bad reputation, but I have been out with him twice on the sly, and every time he started something I didn't like I put him in his place and he behaved okay again. I wish you could help me convince my mother that, if she lets me date him without sneaking, she won't have to worry about me. I want to be able to date him out in the open. I know I can handle him.

CENSORED

DEAR CENSORED:—And what if you can't? Listen to your mother, Honey. Bad reputations are highly contagious. A 20-year-old man who would date a 15-year-old girl on the sly is bad news.

DEAR ABBY: I am at the end of my rope. I have earned (and am still capable of earning) top wages as a secretary. Instead of working out, I must stay home and care for my husband's elderly father. Grandpa is 83, senile, and has no control over his kidneys. He puts things on the stove and forgets them. He smokes constantly, and I must watch him every minute to see that he doesn't set himself, or the house, on fire. The poor old man is very deaf and difficult to be with.

My husband says it is all right to leave him alone, but I know better. Grandpa has many other relatives, but they don't even bother to call up and ask how he is. Should I walk out and go to work? Or should I stay here and play nursemaid to my father-in-law?

THOROUGHLY DISGUSTED
DEAR DISGUSTED: From your letter it is apparent that Grandpa needs around-the-clock care. If you can't hire someone, place him in a good nursing home that is equipped to keep him comfortable and well cared for.

CONFIDENTIAL TO ABE: Abstinence DOES make the heart grow fonder. Have some.

Everybody has a problem. What's yours? For a personal reply, write to Abby in care of this paper. Enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Missile Base Labor
Accord Is Hailed

WASHINGTON (AP) — Back from a tour of missile and space bases, Secretary of Labor Arthur J. Goldberg announced "with pleasure" today that time lost because of labor disputes at the bases has sunk to an all-time low.

The tour took him to Cape Canaveral, Fla.; Strategic Air Command headquarters, Omaha, Neb.; Vandenberg Air Force Base, Calif., and Mountain Home Air Base, Idaho.

7 Astronauts
Get Physical Examinations

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — America's seven astronauts began a 2½-day series of what the federal space agency called routine physical exams here Wednesday at Lackland Air Force Base hospital.

Their personal flight surgeon, Dr. William O. Douglas of Langley AFB, Va., pronounced them "in excellent condition" at the start of the tests.

Douglas will undergo the same physical checkup so as to evaluate the results more effectively, a spokesman for the National Aeronautics and Space Administration said.

The physicals, described in a NASA statement as similar to those given top government and military leaders, are the third such group of checkups for the astronauts since they were selected for the manned space flight program.

Navy Cmdr. Alan B. Shepard, Marine Lt. Col. John Glenn Jr., Navy Lt. J. S. Carpenter and Navy Lt. Cmdr. Walter Schirra Jr. drew cheers from a crowd of about 300 as they stepped from a 707 jet airliner at San Antonio International Airport.

Air Force Capt. Virgil I. (Gus) Grissom, arriving alone two hours later, waved to a smaller crowd and signed the airport guest book.

Air Force Maj. Donald Slayton, Air Force Capt. Leroy Cooper and Douglas were the last to arrive.

Governor May Not
Wait until November

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Ohio's 176 legislators are home today for what they hope will be a recess until Nov. 14. However, Gov. Michael V. DiSalle has hinted he may have other ideas on the length of the lawmakers' rest.

The Columbus Dispatch quoted the governor as saying in Washington that he might call a special session before the November date to deal with capital improvements.

The legislature recessed Tuesday night without passing a $45 million measure to finance improvements. The bill died in the Senate at the end of a cleanup session on an 18-18 tie vote.

Republican leaders said they planned to reconsider the capital improvements bill next November along with DiSalle's unprecedented veto of a billion-dollar appropriation for second year state operations.

A skeleton session was held Wednesday for leaders to sign bills and close shop.

Instead of taking final adjournment, both houses recessed in the expectation that such a move would balk a special session call. Only the governor can call the legislature back after final adjournment. Under such a call, only the subjects specified can be considered.

Leaders of the Republican-controlled legislature questioned whether the governor could call the special session. However, Atty. Gen. Mark McElroy indicated he can.

House Speaker Roger Cloud, R-Logan, said the governor had power to act at any time during dire emergencies but that no such situation existed.

Senate Clerk Thomas J. Bateman added that even if the legislature responded to a special call, members could not be compelled to take any action.

Officials said the defeat of the capital improvements bill left school and other construction under contract up in the air, and left funds unavailable for equipping some new facilities already completed. An extra $170,000 for civil defense also was left hanging.

Anderson Installed
As Navy Chieftain

ANNAPOLIS, Md. (AP)—Adm. George W. Anderson Jr., 54, a naval aviator, is the new commander of all U. S. Navy ships at sea and stations ashore.

Anderson took over as chief of naval operations in traditional ceremonies at the U. S. Naval Academy Tuesday.

He succeeds Adm. Arleigh A. Burke, retiring after 42 years in the Navy and an unprecedented three terms as CNO.

Burke, 59, said sea power is the "one constant influence on the affairs of men and nations" in the midst of a changing world. Anderson, elevated to the Navy's top post by President Kennedy, pledged to keep the Navy "on course and steaming strong, regardless of what the future may portend."

Dear Abby...

By Abigail VanBuren

Don't Worry About Dream Rival

DEAR ABBY: If anybody asks you if she should marry a widower who was married to the same woman for 42 years, tell her not to.

I have been married six months to a widower who is wonderful to me when he is awake, but he calls me Ida in his sleep. I was married and widowed twice, and never once called my present husband Wendell or Herbert. If I can be careful, so can he. I am certainly not interested in a divorce at my age, but I would like to know how to handle this heartless old cuss.

HURT

DEAR HURT: It is not easy to forget a 42-year-old hitch, so be patient with him. Your husband isn't responsible for what he calls you in his sleep. (At least you know who Ida was.)

every minute to see that he doesn't set himself, or the house, on fire. The poor old man is very dear and difficult to be with.

My husband says it is all right to leave him alone, but I know better. Grandpa has many other relatives, but they don't even bother to call up and ask how he is. Should I walk out and go to work? Or should I stay here and play nursemaid to my father-in-law?

THOROUGHLY DISGUSTED

DEAR DISGUSTED: From your letter it is apparent that Grandpa needs around-the-clock care. If you can't hire someone, place him in a good nursing home that is equipped to keep him comfortable and well cared for.

CONFIDENTIAL TO ABE: Abstinence DOES make the heart grow fonder. Have some.

Everybody has a problem. What's yours? For a personal reply, write to Abby in care of this paper. Enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Stark County Planning
Improvements in CD

CANTON, Ohio (AP) — Stark County officials plan to take another look at their civil defense setup in an effort to make it more workable. Mayor Dave Mainwaring of Alliance Wednesday named head of an executive committee whose aim is to make recommendations for improving the county's CD organization.

DEAR ABBY: I am at the end of my rope. I have earned (and am still capable of earning) top wages as a secretary. Instead of working out, I must stay home and care for my husband's elderly father. Grandpa is 83, senile, and has no control over his kidneys. He puts things on the stove and forgets them. He smokes constantly, and I must watch him

DEAR CENSORED:—And what if you can't? Listen to your mother, Honey. Bad reputations are highly contagious. A 20-year-old man who would date a 15-year-old girl on the sly is bad news.

The World Today

WASHINGTON (AP)—A thousand years from now historians, rummaging around in the East-West diplomacy of our day, may conclude: "What a dreary, monotonous, unimaginative time that was."

For almost three years there has been endless jabber-jabber over Berlin, with neither side coming up with a really new idea except perhaps some skimpy concession which neither pleased nor placated anyone.

Now the whole thing is to be done over again, and probably with the same result.

It was late in 1958 when Premier Khrushchev started the fuzz flying with his demand the West get out of Berlin. What he had, mainly, was a big yen to take it over. Even this wasn't new. Stalin had tried it 10 years before.

Such a situation, of course, required a meeting of the Western foreign ministers. But they couldn't seem to think of anything more forward looking than not budging. Then they met with the Russian foreign minister and nobody budged.

Khrushchev finally agreed to an intermission when President Eisenhower asked him over for a

Van Camp's Entry Wins Feature

Helfrich Horse Cops 1st Pace

Times, Attendance Good at Fair Oval

Circleville's George W. Van Camp pushed his Virgie's Worthy to the front in the third heat of Fair racing yesterday and was never headed as he took first place in the third race on 2:18.1 time.

Irish Blackstone, a swift three-year-old pacer owned by Neil J. Helfrich of Washington C. H. and driven by veteran pilot Forrest Short, sped down the home stretch to win the fourth heat and first place.

The Blackstone beauty outlasted Edgar Paulin's Solicitor's Widow and the Asher Stable's Princess Berry to capture the $1,595 purse and a blanket from Ward's Market.

Helfrich's entry paced the mile after another Washington C. H. horse, Mary Belle's Bay, owned by McKinley Kirk and handled by Wendell Kirk, won the first heat with the day's best time, 2:05.2.

THE BELLE faded in the back half of the race to finish fifth in the fourth heat.

In the second race, a 25-class pace, Evert Bucy's Marilyn Meadow took top honors on the strength of her 2:08.4 first position showing in the race's opening heat.

Bucy, of Newark, had Vern Butts at the reins. Marilyn Meadow finished second in the fifth heat when New Holland's Wendell Kirk drove his own entry, Model Frank, to first in 2:10.1. The blanket was donated by Kocheiser's Hardware.

The third race had a $1,560 pot riding with it and Van Camp lost no time in going after the purse and Circleville Fast Freeze blanket.

Van Camp's Virgie's Worthy broke away from the six-horse field early in the first lap of the third heat and was never challenged seriously as he trotted to first place.

In the second half of the two-year-old event, Van Camp's entry yielded the top position to a determined Amber Shadow from Washington C. H. The Jackson Glove Mfg. Co. horse, piloted by Ronnie Cornwell, ran at 2:19.3 though, and Van Camp picked up the laurels.

FINISHES by the position in both heats of the first race were: Jane Blackstone (5-7); Winnie Drake (9-4); Desert Sand (8-8); Irish Blackstone (2-1); Mary Belle's Bay (1-5); Solicitor's Widow (3-2); Paula Vo (7-6); Hideaway Pat (6-9); and Princess Berry (4-3).

The second race: Zora Castle (3-3); Sports Haven (drawn); Hazel Mite (4-4); Chaldale Betty (7-5); Marilyn Meadow (1-2); Little Goody (6-6); Ima Goose (drawn); Janis Frost (5-7); Tactful Girl (drawn); and Model Frank (2-1).

In the third and final race: Startenas Demon (3-drawn); Amber Shadow (4-1); Roadbuster (2-3); Honor's Kit (5-4); Virgie's Worthy (1-2); and Friendly Miss (6-5).

Another full card of harness racing was scheduled to get under way at the Fairgrounds oval about 2 p. m. today.

Mosquitos Curb Illegal Hunters

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Enforcement officers of the state wildlife division have scratched around and found a possible answer to a puzzling question:

What's been keeping those jump-the-gun hunters, the ones who like to get in a few early shots at squirrels before the season, out of the woods of Southern Ohio?

The officers' conclusion: Mosquitos.

Ted Verholser, district law enforcement supervisor at Chillicothe, figures it this way: "In years past, there always have been a few illegal hunters in Southern Ohio who started hunting squirrels about mid-July. This year the mosquitoes are so bad, they apparently have kept such hunters out of the woods."

THEY'RE OFF — The Butler mobile starting gate swings open and the seven-horse field is away to a fast start in the second heat of yesterday's 25-class pace on the Fairgrounds track. Model Frank, whose sulky is behind the starting gate arm, thundered home in the last quarter-mile for the heat victory. Marilyn Meadow, first heat winner, posted the best second race time at 2:08 4-5 to win the trophy. (Staff Photo)

Baseball Said Same Now as In Ruth's Day

BALTIMORE (AP) — A representative of the company that manufactures baseballs for both major leagues says the balls being used today are the same as the ones Babe Ruth hit for 60 homers in 1927.

"There hasn't been any change in the manufacture of the big league baseballs since 1926," says Duke Zilber, national manager of professional baseball sales and major sports promotion for A.G. Spalding & Brothers, makers of the balls.

"The ball is not wound tighter," Zilber insists. "It's the same winding, the same yarn, the same cotton, same hides and the same handstitching that they've used for the last 35 years."

Maris-Mantle vs. Ruth
Roger Maris and Mickey Mantle of New York compare with the record pace of Babe Ruth in 1927:

Pistol Champion Defending Title

CAMP PERRY, Ohio (AP) — Defending champion Army Sgt. 1. C. William D. Blankenship of Richlands, Va., took the lead in the 1961 National Pistol Championships here Wednesday with a score of 1,766 out of a possible 1,800.

His Army teammate, M. Sgt. James W. Kurtz of Eldred, Ill., also had 1,766 points but had to settle for second place because he had fewer X-ring hits. The X-ring is a small circle within the bullseye used to break ties.

Going into the third and last day in the pistol class, Army shooters continued to dominate the field of 2,691 of the country's top military and civilian shooters with the first five places.

Dad and Daughter Pace League Play

A father-daughter combination paced the field in the latest Tuesday Mixed League bowling activity at Circle D Lanes. Glyn Hoover chalked up a 584 top men's series on scores of 230-180-174.

College Stars To Take to Air

Razzle-Dazzle Play Planned against Pros

CHICAGO (AP) — The College All Stars, three weeks of hard-nosed training behind them, will try to bedazzle the Philadelphia Eagles with wide open football Friday night at Soldier Field in the 28th annual midsummer game.

Three passers—Norm Sneed of Wake Forest, Bill Kilmer of UCLA and Tom Matthe of Ohio State—are expected to operate mainly out of double-wing spreads and the short-punt formations.

The game will attract about 65,000 customers to the big lake front stadium and will be televised nationally by ABC starting at 9 p. m. Eastern Standard Time.

The collegians, coached for the fourth straight year by Otto Graham, have slid from original 13-point underdogs to 9½. This is the fewest points allotted opposing National Football League champions as favorites in the history of the series, which is sponsored by the Chicago Tribune Charities Inc.

The All Stars, never installed as a choice by oddsmakers, have won eight of the 27 games played and battled the pros to two ties. Their last victory was a 35-19 romp over the Detroit Lions in 1958.

The Eagles are to arrive in Chicago today from their Hershey, Pa., camp and take workouts at night in Soldier Field. Their new head coach, Nick Skorich, who succeeded retired Bud Shaw, still has not decided between quarterback Sonny Jurgensen or King Hill as the starter.

Spanish Shouts To Color Bout

OGDEN, Utah (AP) — Fans will get an earful of instructions Saturday night in the Gene Fullmer-Florentino Fernandez midweight title fight.

Marv Jenson, manager of Fullmer, shouts a number code at the National Boxing Association camp throughout the fight. The numbers signify various attack and defense patterns.

Eugenio Ruiz, manager of the 25-year-old challenger, Florentino Fernandez, shouts his instructions in Spanish since neither Ruiz or Fernandez speak English. Both are Cubans.

Both battlers have wound up their heavy training and the two managers have started the final honing they hope will lead to victory in the 15-round bout. It will be televised (ABC) starting at 9 p. m. (EST)

Van Camp's Entry Wins Feature

Helfrich Horse Cops 1st Pace

Times, Attendance Good at Fair Oval

Circleville's George W. Van Camp pushed his Virgie's Worthy to the front in the third heat of Fair racing yesterday and was never headed as he took first place in the third race on 2:18.1 time.

Irish Blackstone, a swift three-year-old pacer owned by Neil J. Helfrich of Washington C. H. and driven by veteran pilot Forrest Short, sped down the home stretch to win the fourth heat and first place.

The Blackstone beauty outlasted Edgar Paulin's Solicitor's Widow and the Asher Stable's Princess Berry to capture the $1,595 purse and a blanket from Ward's Market.

Helfrich's entry paced the mile after another Washington C. H. horse, Mary Belle's Bay, owned by McKinley Kirk and handled by Wendell Kirk, won the first heat with the day's best time, 2:05.2.

THE BELLE faded in the back half of the race to finish fifth in the fourth heat.

In the second race, a 25-class pace, Evert Bucy's Marilyn Meadow took top honors on the strength of her 2:08.4 first position showing in the race's opening heat.

Bucy, of Newark, had Vern Butts at the reins. Marilyn Meadow finished second in the fifth heat as New Holland's Wendell Kirk drove his own entry, Model Frank, to first in 2:10.1. The blanket was donated by Kocheiser's Hardware.

The third race had a $1,560 pot riding with it and Van Camp lost no time in going after the purse and Circleville Fast Freeze blanket.

Van Camp's Virgie's Worthy broke away from the six-horse field early in the first lap of the third heat and was never challenged seriously as he trotted to first place.

In the second half of the two-year-old event, Van Camp's entry yielded the top position to a determined Amber Shadow from Washington C. H. The Jackson Glove Mfg. Co. horse, piloted by Ronnie Cornwell, ran at 2:19.3 though, and Van Camp picked up the laurels.

FINISHES by the position in both heats of the first race were: Jane Blackstone (5-7); Winnie Dares (9-4); Desert Sand (8-8); Irish Blackstone (2-1); Mary Belle's Bay (1-5); Solicitor's Widow (3-2); Paula Vo (7-6); Hideaway Pat (6-9); and Princess Berry (4-3).

The second race: Zora Castle (3-3); Sports Haven (drawn); Hazel Mite (4-4); Chaldale Betty (7-5); Marilyn Meadow (1-2); Little Goody (6-6); Ima Goose (drawn); Janis Frost (5-7); Tactful Girl (drawn); and Model Frank (2-1).

In the third and final race: Startenas Demon (3-drawn); Amber Shadow (4-1); Roadbuster (2-3); Honor's Kit (5-4); Virgie's Worthy (1-2); and Friendly Miss (6-5).

Another full card of harness racing was scheduled to get under way at the Fairgrounds oval about 2 p. m. today.

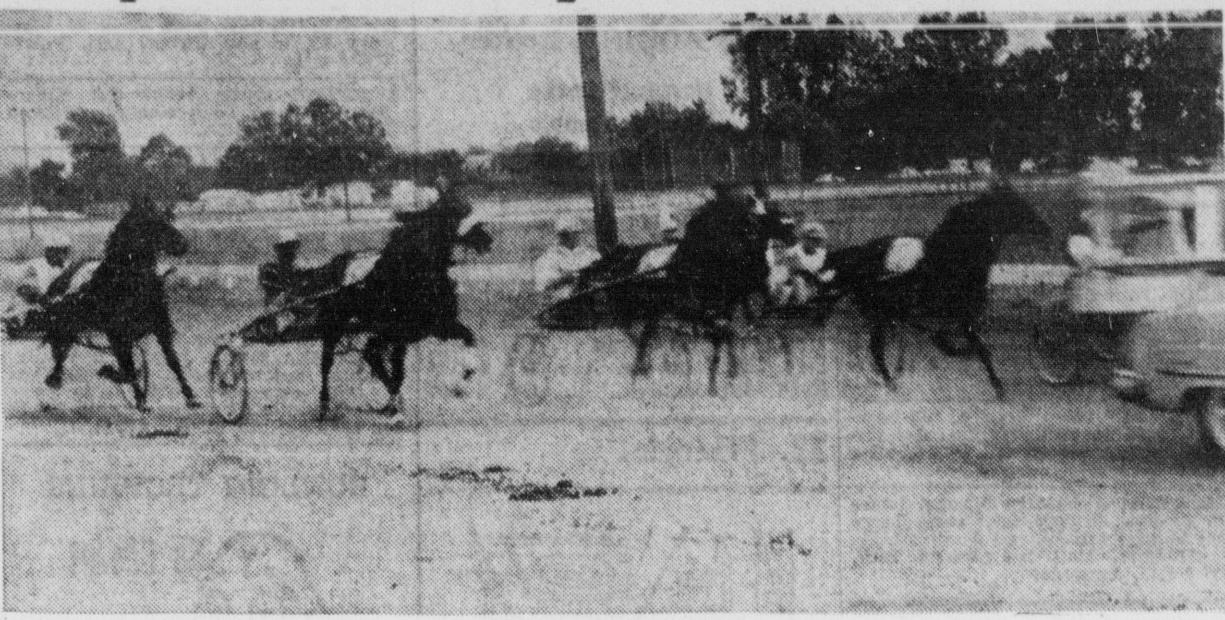

Mosquitos Curb Illegal Hunters

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Enforcement officers of the state wildlife division have scratched around and found a possible answer to a puzzling question:

What's been keeping those jump-the-gun hunters, the ones who like to get in a few early shots at squirrels before the season, out of the woods of Southern Ohio?

The officers' conclusion: Mosquitos.

Ted Verholser, district law enforcement supervisor at Chillicothe, figures it this way: "In years past, there always have been a few illegal hunters in Southern Ohio who started hunting squirrels about mid-July. This year the mosquitoes are so bad, they apparently have kept such hunters out of the woods."

THEY'RE OFF — The Butler mobile starting gate swings open and the seven-horse field is away to a fast start in the second heat of yesterday's 25-class pace on the Fairgrounds track. Model Frank, whose sulky is behind the starting gate arm, thundered home in the last quarter-mile for the heat victory. Marilyn Meadow, first heat winner, posted the best second race time at 2:08 4/5 to win the trophy. (Staff Photo)

Baseball Said Same Now as In Ruth's Day

BALTIMORE (AP) — A representative of the company that manufactures baseballs for both major leagues says the balls being used today are the same as the ones Babe Ruth hit for 60 homers in 1927.

"There hasn't been any change in the manufacture of the big league baseballs since 1926," says Duke Zilber, national manager of professional baseball sales and major sports promotion for A.G. Spalding & Brothers, makers of the balls.

"The ball is not wound tighter," Zilber insists. "It's the same winding, the same yarn, the same cotton, same hides and the same handstitching that they've used for the last 35 years."

Maris-Mantle vs. Ruth

Roger Maris and Mickey Mantle of New York compare with the record pace of Babe Ruth in 1927:

No.	Games	Date
Maris	40	103 July 25
Mantle	40	103 Aug. 2
Ruth	40	120 Aug. 22

Pistol Champion Defending Title

CAMP PERRY, Ohio (AP) — Defending champion Army Sgt. 1. C. William D. Blankenship of Richlands, Va., took the lead in the 1961 National Pistol Championships here Wednesday with a score of 1,766 out of a possible 1,800.

His Army teammate, M. Sgt. James W. Kurtz of Eldred, Ill., also had 1,766 points but had to settle for second place because he had fewer X-ring hits. The X-ring is a small circle within the bullseye used to break ties.

Going into the third and last day in the pistol class, Army shooters continued to dominate the field of 2,691 of the country's top military and civilian shooters with the first five places.

Dad and Daughter Pace League Play

A father-daughter combination paced the field in the latest Tuesday Mixed League bowling activity at Circle D Lanes, Glyn Hoover chalked up a 584 top men's series on scores of 230-180-174.

Penny Dietrich, his daughter, marked a 505 to lead the women's division. The Sturgell and Betts quintet forced its way to top honors in team singles with a 770. The same squad pulled off a 2,135 best series for the night.

Cincinnati Back In Lead in NL Pennant Chase

Philadelphia Bows To Redlegs for 14th Consecutive Time

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Cincinnati Reds are in position today to become the first team in baseball history to sweep a full season schedule from a rival club.

The Reds not only made it 14 in a row from Philadelphia by winning both ends of a two-night doubleheader Wednesday 4-2 and 3-2, but surged back into first place in the National League by one game over Los Angeles. The Dodgers, who had led by a half game, were shut out 6-0 by the one-hit pitching of San Francisco right-hander Juan Marichal.

St. Louis downed Pittsburgh 4-2. Milwaukee defeated Chicago by the same 4-2 score in the first game of their doubleheader. The second game was halted after 11 innings by darkness with the score tied at 7-7.

New York's Yankees opened a 2½ game lead over Detroit in the American League. They swept a pair from Kansas City 6-5 and 12-5 while the Tigers divided a twin-bill with Washington. Detroit won the first game 4-3 but the Senators took the second, 6-2, in 11 innings. Boston won two from Los Angeles 7-2 and 8-7. Cleveland defeated Chicago 3-2 in the first game but the White Sox won the second 8-4. Minnesota and Baltimore also split. The Twins won the opener 4-3 and the Orioles took the second 4-3.

Jim O'Toole (11-8) and Joey Jay (15-6) were the Reds' winning pitchers against the Phillies. Gordy Coleman's two-run homer, his 20th, broke up the first game. Frank Robinson's two-run single was the key hit in the second.

No club ever has won all 22 games from a rival. The 1909 Cubs had a 21-1 record against Boston and the 1938 Pirates and 1945 Cubs had 21-1 marks against the Reds. In the American League, the Yankees in 1927 took 21 from St. Louis but the Browns beat the Yanks in the 22nd game.

Tommy Davis' fifth inning single ruined Marichal's bid for a no-hitter. It was the second shut-out in a row for the young Giant right-hander who walked two and struck out 11. Felipe Alou drove in four runs with a pair of homers. Johnny Podres lost it.

Joe Cunningham's three-run homer in the seventh inning gave the Cards' Larry Jackson his seventh victory. Bobby Shantz, in relief, took the loss.

Frank Thomas' two-run single in the eighth overcame a 2-1 Chicago lead in the first game. Hank Aaron's grand slammer gave the Braves a 7-4 lead in the nightcap, but the Cubs tied the score on Billy Williams' third homer of the day and George Altman's two-run single. The suspended game will be made up on Sunday, Sept. 3.

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — "Whenever I feel lonely out here, I just go out shopping in a supermarket," explained actress Frances Bavier. "Somebody will always look at me, smile and say 'Why, hello, you're Aunt Bee.'"

Miss Bavier is a tiny, gentle-voiced and sweet-faced performer with a background of 35 years in the theater. During the past 10 years she has become TV's prototype of the lovable mother and aunt. At the moment she is busy working on the second batch of "The Andy Griffith Show," one of the few outstandingly successful new series of last year.

Although she has been constantly and profitably busy in Hollywood's film and TV studios for a decade, Miss Bavier has never lost her homesickness for her native New York and the stage.

"It's different out here and it's lonely," she said frankly. "In the theater, you make friends and you spend time together when you aren't working. But here, no matter how long you work together, when work is over everyone says so long and disappears. You never see them until you start work again."

Sharp-eyed viewers of next season's programs may harbor some scandalous suspicions: Sheriff Andy Taylor of "The Andy Griffith Show" and Chris Logan, romantic interest of Robert Young's new "Window on Main Street" live in the same house.

It is all in the interests of economy, however. The exterior sets of Mayberry, Griffith's town, and Millerville, Young's town, are in the same section of Desilu's back lot. Both use some of the same facilities—on different days, of course.

A lot of TV personalities are doing very nicely, in terms of employment, in movies. Among those currently before the cinema

Views on Television - Radio

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP TV-Radio Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — "When ever I feel lonely out here, I just go out shopping in a supermarket," explained actress Frances Bavier. "Somebody will always look at me, smile and say 'Why, hello, you're Aunt Bee.'"

Miss Bavier is a tiny, gentle-voiced and sweet-faced performer with a background of 35 years in the theater. During the past 10 years she has become TV's prototype of the lovable mother and aunt. At the moment she is busy working on the second batch of "The Andy Griffith Show," one of the few outstandingly successful new series of last year.

Although she has been constantly and profitably busy in Hollywood's film and TV studios for a decade, Miss Bavier has never lost her homesickness for her native New York and the stage.

"It's different out here and it's lonely," she said frankly. "In the theater, you make friends and you spend time together when you aren't working. But here, no matter how long you work together, when work is over everyone says so long and disappears. You never see them until you start work again."

Sharp-eyed viewers of next season's programs may harbor some scandalous suspicions: Sheriff Andy Taylor of "The Andy Griffith Show" and Chris Logan, romantic interest of Robert Young, new "Window on Main Street" live in the same house.

It is all in the interests of economy, however. The exterior sets of Mayberry, Griffith's town, and Millville, Young's town, are in the same section of Desilu's back lot. Both use some of the same facilities—on different days, of course.

A lot of TV personalities are doing very nicely, in terms of employment, in movies. Among those currently before the cinema cameras are Herschel Bernardi, late of "Peter Gun;" Steve McQueen, Fess Parker and Nick Adams, all former heroes of TV sagebrush drama; Tom Ewell, who had his own series last season; Lee Marvin, once of "M Squad," and Audrey Meadows, who has kept very busy in many areas since the dear, dead days of "The Honeymooners."

Lunar Launching Sites Are Sought

WASHINGTON (AP) —World-wide study of possible launching sites for moon vehicles and even farther ranging spacecraft is being conducted by the National Aeronautics and Space Administration in cooperation with the Defense Department.

Among potential sites already inspected are the Gulf Coast near Brownsville, Tex., the White Sands Proving Ground in New Mexico, Christmas Island in the Pacific, and an area in Hawaii.

A spokesman for NASA said the site study team also is making a thorough review of the possible adaptation of present launching installations at Cape Canaveral, Fla., and Vandenberg Air Force Base, Calif., for the much larger and more powerful rockets for moon and planetary research.

"No decision has been made, and the studies are continuing," he said.

NASA already has briefed 1,200 contractor representatives on technical details of its Apollo project to land men on the moon.

Contractor proposals are to be submitted next month, and NASA plans to award the first Apollo research and development contracts late this year.

The plan is for three-man Apollo teams to orbit the earth perhaps as early as 1964, fly around the moon possibly in 1965, and land on the moon late in 1966 or in 1967.

NASA already has awarded the Martin Co., Baltimore, a contract to study the launch vehicle requirements for a lunar landing, and also for establishment of a permanent 12-man lunar base.

The launching vehicle, with its Apollo craft, would weigh more than 100 tons standing on the pad.

Earth orbital flights of the Apollo craft, or flights around the moon and back, will be launched by Saturn rockets 160 feet tall.

For lunar landings a 22-engine Nova rocket of 12 million pounds thrust will be required.

The size, power, shattering noise and potential danger of the Saturn and Nova rockets are the reasons for the current search for launching sites providing greater isolation and public safety than is currently available.

Bob Kennedy Pledges Aid To Ohio; Jack Smiles, Too

WASHINGTON (AP)—Ohio Gov. Michael V. DiSalle called on the Kennedys Wednesday and received the promise of help from one and promised consideration from the other.

Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy told DiSalle that the federal government would do everything possible to help Ohio halt a three-year wave of unsolved bombings.

Earlier President Kennedy promised that Ohio would be considered for location of the development center for the Apollo moon-shot program, DiSalle said.

The Ohio governor said the attorney general is familiar with the situation in Youngstown, where a gambler, Vince DeNiro was blown to bits July 17 when he stepped on the starter of a car and set off a bomb.

How Weather Looks Today

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Official Weather Bureau summary of Ohio's weather outlook:

Thunderstorms produced locally heavy rain in Ohio again Wednesday afternoon and evening. Columbus received .7 of an inch in less than one hour, and Piketon reported .8 of an inch.

Considerable fog formed over the state during the night, reducing the visibility to zero at times.

At daybreak this morning, most places reported temperatures in the 60s. Youngstown and Toledo had 63, Columbus and Bellaire 68 and Cincinnati 67.

The weak weather front responsible for the thundershowers over Ohio moved southward into Kentucky during the night, and a weak high pressure formed over Illinois. This high pressure will control the Ohio weather today and tonight, producing mostly sunny skies in the northern sections today, and partly cloudy conditions elsewhere.

Tonight will be fair in all sections. Friday fair, dry weather will continue in the north, with widely scattered thundershowers expected over the central and south. Little temperature change is anticipated through Friday.

Plans for an interesting story-map on Circleville were discussed. President Parsons requested L. D. Varble and his Public Affairs Committee to study possibilities of having the maps printed locally.

It was announced that the Chamber office now has an up-to-date list of officers of local women's clubs. A list of officers of men's organizations is still being compiled.

Bob Kennedy Pledges Aid To Ohio; Jack Smiles, Too

WASHINGTON (AP)—Ohio Gov. Michael V. DiSalle called on the Kennedys Wednesday and received the promise of help from one and promised consideration from the other.

Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy told DiSalle that the federal government would do everything possible to help Ohio halt a three-year wave of unsolved bombings.

Earlier President Kennedy promised that Ohio would be considered for location of the development center for the Apollo moonshot program, DiSalle said.

The Ohio governor said the attorney general is familiar with the situation in Youngstown, where a gambler, Vince DeNiro was blown to bits July 17 when he stepped on the starter of a car and set off a bomb.

How Weather Looks Today

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Official Weather Bureau summary of Ohio's weather outlook:

Thunderstorms produced locally heavy rain in Ohio again Wednesday afternoon and evening. Columbus received .7 of an inch in less than one hour, and Piketon reported .8 of an inch.

Considerable fog formed over the state during the night, reducing the visibility to zero at times.

At daybreak this morning, most places reported temperatures in the 60s. Youngstown and Toledo had 63, Columbus and Bellaire 68 and Cincinnati 67.

The weak weather front responsible for the thundershowers over Ohio moved southward into Kentucky during the night, and a weak high pressure formed over Illinois. This high pressure will control the Ohio weather today and tonight, producing mostly sunny skies in the northern sections today, and partly cloudy conditions elsewhere.

Tonight will be fair in all sections. Friday fair, dry weather will continue in the north, with widely scattered thundershowers expected over the central and south. Little temperature change is anticipated through Friday.

DiSalle said there is a long list of unsolved bombings in Mahoning, Trumbull, Stark and Jefferson counties — all apparently connected with racketeering.

He added: "There hasn't been a bombing solved in those four counties in four years."

Federal officials with whom he talked definitely feel an interstate syndicate may be involved, DiSalle said, adding that he was told federal men investigating the crime situation in Newport, Ky., may be sent to Ohio to investigate bombings there.

As for any other details, DiSalle refused to comment. "There's no use blowing a siren, is there?" Following an earlier closed meeting on the moonshot program with the President, DiSalle said the President told him Ohio "will have a shot at it."

The governor said he did not recommend a specific location for the Apollo facilities, but he said he pointed out to the President that Wright-Patterson Air Force Base at Dayton has 7,000 scientists and engineers experienced in space work.

DiSalle also discussed with the president the possibility of an experimental electronic highway system for the Columbus-Cincinnati leg of Interstate 71.
